

Select one of the links below (sample questions listed) to view the questions and answers for that topic. Please also see our Crucial Questions, Christian Theology, Bible Summary, and Questions about the Books of the Bible sections.

What is general revelation and special revelation? General revelation and special revelation are the two ways God has chosen to reveal Himself to humanity. General revelation refers to the general truths that can be known about God through nature. Special revelation refers to the more specific truths that can be known about God through the supernatural. In regard to general revelation, Psalm Day after day they pour forth speech; night after night they display knowledge. There is no speech or language where their voice is not heard. Their voice goes out into all the earth, their words to the ends of the world. The order, intricacy, and wonder of creation speak to the existence of a powerful and glorious Creator. General revelation is also taught in Romans 1: Special revelation includes physical appearances of God, dreams, visions, the written Word of God, and most importantlyâ€”Jesus Christ. The Bible records God appearing in physical form many times Genesis 3: Of primary importance in the revealing of God is His Word, the Bible, which is also a form of special revelation. God miraculously guided the authors of Scripture to correctly record His message to mankind, while still using their own styles and personalities. The Word of God is living and active Hebrews 4: The Word of God is inspired, profitable, and sufficient 2 Timothy 3: God determined to have the truth regarding Him recorded in written form because He knew the inaccuracy and unreliability of oral tradition. He also understood that the dreams and visions of man can be misinterpreted. God decided to reveal everything that humanity needs to know about Him, what He expects, and what He has done for us in the Bible. The ultimate form of special revelation is the Person of Jesus Christ. God became a human being John 1:

Chapter 2 : Can You Name These Greek Gods? - ProProfs Quiz

Answer: General revelation and special revelation are the two ways God has chosen to reveal Himself to humanity. General revelation refers to the general truths that can be known about God through nature.

Colonel Patton, the great uncle of George S. Patton, was mortally wounded at Gettysburg, a scene depicted in the movie Gettysburg. Most of the extras were American Civil War reenactors, who provided their own equipment and worked without pay. Russell Crowe was the original choice to play Stonewall Jackson, but scheduling conflicts prevented his availability in the summer and fall of when the movie was filmed. Stephen Lang had begun to reprise his role as George Pickett, but instead was asked to fill in the role of Jackson. Billy Campbell, who had played a 44th New York lieutenant in Gettysburg was called in to hastily replace Lang in the role of Pickett. Bruce Boxleitner was instead cast in the role. Couch was portrayed by actor Carsten Norgaard. Martin Sheen was prevented from reprising his role as Lee due to contractual obligations to The West Wing. During post-production, Maxwell, Warner Bros. Chamberlain and his wife have a conversation with Booth and his fellow actors following the end of the play. Another scene cut from the film features a performance in Washington, D. When he gives the famous "dagger of the mind" soliloquy, he looks directly at Lincoln while reciting it. Later, when Booth is offered the chance to meet with Lincoln, he refuses. A sequence dealing with the Battle of Antietam was removed from the film. The battle was seen mostly from the perspectives of Jackson who played a major strategic role in the battle and Chamberlain whose corps was held in reserve. Soundtrack[edit] In , the film score was composed by John Frizzell, with some minor contributions by Randy Edelman, who composed the score for the previous Gettysburg. The soundtrack is notable for containing a new song commissioned for the movie and written and performed by Bob Dylan, Cross the Green Mountain. The track was later included on the compilation album The Bootleg Series Vol. Some may also take offense at the pro-Confederate slant. Woodworth derided the movie as a modern-day telling of Lost Cause mythology. Gods and Generals brings to the big screen the major themes of Lost Cause mythology that professional historians have been working for half a century to combat. In the world of Gods and Generals, slavery has nothing to do with the Confederate cause. Instead, the Confederates are nobly fighting for, rather than against, freedom, as viewers are reminded again and again by one white southern character after another. He also criticizes the relative lack of attention given to the motivations of Union soldiers fighting in the war. He excoriates the film for allegedly implying, in agreement with Lost Cause mythology, that the South was more "sincerely Christian. There are characters in the film that do not exist in the book, and a great many characters in the book that never made it to the film.

Chapter 3 : Gods and Generals Summary & Study Guide

Frequently Asked Questions Q: Given that slavery was a brutal and immoral practice, why would anyone today (including the makers of this film) side with the Confederates, who supported slavery, against the Union, which sought to abolish it?

Related Media After studying the benefits of knowing God and seeing how knowing him is the attainment of the highest good, we now will answer the questions: What is the evidence? The Bible Assumes the Existence of God When we open our Bibles, some might expect to find a large apologetic treatise on the existence of God. It would be expected that the writers of the Bible would begin by proving and defending his existence. Genesis begins with this: Similarly, Paul speaks of the entire world having knowledge of God, and therefore, being without excuse for not believing in him. Why does the Bible teach that every person knows that there is God? How is God revealed? What are the evidences of his existence? The reason Scripture does not argue the existence of God is because God has made himself known to all of mankind. On our own, we cannot know God. Revelation must come from his initiative. Consider what Wayne Grudem says about revelation: There are two primary forms of revelation. The first is called general revelation, which is revelation that everybody has received. Charles Ryrie explains general revelation this way: General revelation is exactly thatâ€”general. It is general in its scope; that is, it reaches to all people Matt. It is general in geography; that is, it encompasses the entire globe Ps. It is general in its methodology; that is, it employs universal means like the heat of the sun vv. Simply because it is a revelation that affects all people wherever they are and whenever they have lived it can bring light and truth to all, or, if rejected, it brings condemnation. Erickson defines special revelation this way: General Revelation in Creation Shows That God Exists As mentioned previously, some of the greatest evidence that we have of a creator is his creation. David says in Psalm The heavens declare the glory of God; the skies proclaim the work of his hands. Day after day they pour forth speech; night after night they display knowledge. There is no speech or language where their voice is not heard. Their voice goes out into all the earth, their words to the ends of the world. Creation declares that there is a God. Here is an apologetic for the evidence of God. He had previously never seen a watch or heard of anything like it before. He would pick up the watch and notice seconds moving, the hours moving. If he managed to open the watch, he would see screws, chips, and advanced technology. It had to have intention behind it. It had to have purpose. A tribal person would naturally believe there was a creator, and you could not tell him otherwise. If that is the normal conclusion when seeing a watch, how much more should we come to that same conclusion when seeing the human body. If the body is at If the body was a little bit colder, it would freeze. If we were a little closer, we would burn. One of the greatest evidences for the Creator is his creation. How do I know that the Mona Lisa had a creator? Again, it would be ludicrous to come to any other conclusion. It would be foolish to come to any other conclusion when looking at creation. Another aspect of general revelation which reveals God to man is the conscience. Look at what Paul says in Romans 1: It seems Paul is referring to the conscience as a mechanism that reveals God to man. The conscience is an internal witness within man that affirms or accuses him of right and wrong. The ultimate basis of right and wrong is God. Listen to Romans 2: Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them. The knowledge of God is evident within man by the internal witness God has given in the conscience. Evidence for the conscience can be seen by looking at the majority of religions in the world. Even in tribal areas, they typically believe in a God and his judgment. They believe they will be judged by God for their sins. This is common amongst the religions of the world because of the conscience. This is general revelation. God has revealed himself to man through his creation and also through the conscience. We have a God that wants to be known, and therefore, he reveals himself to us. Creation declares his existence and glory, and our hearts declare it as well. General Revelation Shows Certain Attributes of God Not only do we see that God exists when looking at creation, but we can also discern some of his characteristics. Many characteristics of a person can be discovered by looking at his creation or something he has done. When I was single, I was a very disorganized person. If you went into my room, you would have seen clothes all over my desk, my bed unmade, and hundreds of books on my floor. Because of my room my creation you would be able to tell a lot about me without ever meeting me. You would probably surmise that this person must be a pretty disorganized guy. You would probably also surmise that this person likes to study because of all the books. You could tell some things about me by what I had created. What are some characteristics we can learn about God through general revelation? God Is Glorious We can tell from creation that God is glorious—he is great. He must be big. Look at what he has created. This God is glorious. We can see his glory in creation. God Is Powerful Another characteristic that can be discerned from creation is the power of God. It takes great power to create the heavens and the earth. Consider again what Romans 1: Since what may be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them. When you look at all of creation, you cannot but discern that this creator is very powerful. God Is Transcendent or Immortal Romans 1: There is nothing like him! They made idols of men and animals. Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. He must be different; he must be immortal. But instead of acknowledging the immortal God, people professing to be wise became foolish and started to worship the creation itself. They worshiped cows, snakes, and humans. Most people worship themselves by the way they live their life. They essentially declare that I am the chief end of my existence. Do what makes you happy. They worship their own image; they are their own God. In fact, one of the major temptations throughout history has been to worship other individuals or become deities ourselves. This also has happened with many of the cults and religions of the world. A person or persons are viewed as divine and are worshiped as such. Because men refuse to acknowledge God, they instead worship the creation. Paul says this is foolishness. God is divine; he is immortal and transcendent. There is nothing like him. What else can we learn about the nature of God from creation? God Is Kind and Loving Another characteristic we can learn about God through creation is the fact that he is kind.

Chapter 4 : What is general revelation and special revelation? | theinnatdunvilla.com

Gods and Generals stands as one of the most enjoyable examples of historical fiction in recent history. The book follows four of the most influential military commanders of the American Civil War. They are Robert E. Lee and Thomas Jonathan Jackson, fighting for the South and Joshua Lawrence.

But to make sure that you too are fluent with the ways of the Bible, here are some questions that I want you to solve before you don the garb of the quizmaster. So, all the best and here goes. Who was the Cupbearer of King Artaxerxes? Who did Boaz marry? Who is the composer of the Book of Lamentations? What did Noah construct after coming out of the ark? In order to possess the field of Machpelah, how much did Abraham pay? Due to the disobedience of which law was Daniel thrown to the hungry lions? Who did Jesus refer to as the "Father of Lies"? Name the Israelite woman who had two Moabite daughters-in-law. As per Ezekiel Name the monarch who asked for the foreskins of a thousand Philistines. According to Judges 16, who was the lady who manipulated Samson to pry out the secret behind his strength? Where was Solomon anointed? Name the author of the first five books of the Bible. Name the four faunae thrust upon the Egyptians by God as agents to spread plague. How many wives did Jacob have and what were their names? What was it that David was not allowed to do under the influence of Abigail? Who assassinated Eglon, the monarch of Moab? Name the musical instrument David played for Saul. Which ones are the longest and the shortest of all the books in the Bible? How many chapters does the New Testament have? In front of whom does both the Sun and the Moon stand still? At the time of the birth of Jesus, in which city did the King of Herod reside? Have fun digging out the answers from the Bible. Believe me, the Bible teaches the best human values with the help of exemplary tales which will remain with you for life. So, make the most of these easy but intricate Bible trivia questions and answers and become an expert in the Bible verses.

Chapter 5 : Examples of Good Discussion Questions – UW Oshkosh Desire2Learn FAQ

Another general question that will get people thinking about the book as a whole, discussing whether the book is all about the characters or all about the plot will help frame the remainder of.

Recommendations and tips for writing good discussion questions, including examples. Discussion Question Examples Online discussions are vital toward reaching learning objectives. In face-to-face courses, discussions are spontaneous; in online keep students alert, get a few outgoing students involved if naturally progresses or instructor motivates responses through questioning, prompting, additional resources, personal examples, current event that applies. Planned ahead and constructed, as are the responses Motivation for studying the materials – peers will be reading the responses Use discussion rather than reiteration Discussions often have two or three parts; make sure this is clear to the students. Expectations for Course Discussions: Students are required to respond to at least two other student postings. Be substantive and follow up on your comments with why you think. Do you agree or disagree and why. Do you have questions based on the postings? Use references from podcasts, readings and activities that support your position. Be sure to properly cite your references. Promote Discussion This type of discussion is used to create background information that the students can use in the course. Copyright, plagiarism, peer review, and other specific topics are great for first week discussion postings as the information is used through the rest of the course. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of electronic communication. You may use a personal experience or you may create an example. Library Usage electronic or for hybrid physical is also an option Part 1: Give an overview of the article and discuss why this is relevant to your social or work life, using concepts from the article and the course readings. Be sure you cite the article and provide the DOI or link. Do not use an article that a co-learner has already posted. Please contact the librarian if you are having difficulty, they are here to help! Sources Read the article attached to this discussion. Write your critical evaluation of the article and explain your points using examples from the article. Find two sources that support your evaluation of the article and give a brief summary of both. Explain why you believe these sources are credible and they would, or would not, be valuable to this author. Use the first paragraph of your response to summarize your final topic so your readers can make the connection to your choices from the podcast. Creative Review the photograph in Posting 7. Create a response with your interpretation of what this represents. What visual queues did you use to create your response? You forgot to ask for help and the event is only 4 days away; it is now up to your group members to make this a successful event. Over the next week your group needs to identify tasks, set priorities and come up with a plan to make this happen. You cannot ask any other people to help You have a budget of Student Collaboration Part 1: Post the topic idea that you have formed for your final project using the template attached to this posting. Develop two potential research questions that they may want to consider in the course of their project development. Post your rough draft for your final paper as an attachment in Discussion Open their attachment and save it to your desktop; review and add comments to your downloaded copy and attach your edited copy as an attachment to your reply to this student. Clarity, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion support the paper, grammar and punctuation, references, are points clear, does it flow in an organized format, are the required components included. Feel free to ask questions, ask for clarification, suggest literature review ideas, and respectfully identify items that could improve the paper.

Chapter 6 : God Goddess GK Quiz - 40 Questions Set - theinnatdunvilla.com

The word of God is a small group's primary source of spiritual power, encouragement, and wisdom. All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, that the man (or woman) of God may be complete, equipped for every good work.

Name the nine daughters of Zeus and Mnemosynethe nine Muses of Greek mythology? What mythological beast has the head of a man, the body of a lion, and the tail and feet of a dragon? The diet of what mythical monster periodically included seven youths and seven maidens? In Greek mythology, who was the goddess of the rainbow? In ancient Athens, what tree was considered sacred -- with all its fruit belonging to the state, and death the penalty for anyone caught cutting one down? What famous structure in Greek mythology was built by a man named Epeius? According to the legend, Epeius was a skilled woodworker commissioned by Odysseus to build the huge gift horse. According to legend, who fired the arrow that hit Achilles in the heel, his only vulnerable spot? What mythological god was portrayed as the Colossus of Rhodes, the more than foot-high sculpture that was one of the Seven Wonders of the World? Helios, the sun god. The statue was destroyed by an earthquake in In Greek mythology, who were Arges, Brontes and Steropes? In Greek mythology, who was the queen of the underworld and wife of Hades? Who was the ancient Greek god of dreams? Hypnus was the god of sleep. What bird was credited with saving Rome from attack y the Gauls in B. According to legend, the honking of geese alerted the Romans to a night raid by the Gauls. According to classical mythology, who was the first mortal woman? Janus--the ancient Roman god of good beginnings for whom January is named-- is pictured on early coins with two faces looking in opposite directions. What did the faces represent? The future and the past. What is the name of the imaginary city built in the air in The Birds, the comedy written by the Greek playwright Aristophanes in B. Cloud-Cuckoo-Land-- or Nephelococcygia in Greek. Laius, King of Thebes, and his queen, Jocasta. White at the base, black in the middle and red at the tip. Thor was the god of thunder. According to legend, what Hindu god died as Achilles didfrom an arrow shot into his heel? He was shot by a hunter who mistook him for a deer. His heel was his only vulnerable spot. Where can you find the best free mythology trivia quiz questions and answers?

Chapter 7 : Gods and Generals () - IMDb

Progress: 1 of 16 questions How well do you know the deities of Greek Myths? Take this quiz to test your knowlegde of the Twelve Olympians, Hades, Hestia, even a few minor dieties, and their roles in the ancient Greek Myths.

Gods and Generals stands as one of the most enjoyable examples of historical fiction in recent history. The book follows four of the most influential military commanders of the American Civil War. They are Robert E. We are introduced to these men in the years just prior to the war and goes until the days just before the decisive Battle of Gettysburg. As the book begins when we find all of them a bit uncomfortable with life during peace time. However, the peaceful life does not last for long. As his troops are combined with the Confederate army, he finds himself with little to do. Jackson and Hancock are both given brigade commands for their respective armies and Chamberlain becomes a lieutenant colonel in the 20th Main regiment. The Battle of Bull Run, which is the first battle of the war goes in favor of the south, but the advantage does not last. Before long, the confederate capital of Richmond is threatened by the Union army under McClellan. After the Southern commander is killed the Confederate president, Jefferson Davis, confers command of the army to General Lee. After this there is a series of thrilling confrontations. The southern forces are consistently outnumbered and under supplied, but they defeat the Union Army repeatedly. While the southern commanders enjoy incredible successes, Hancock is forced to watch his commanding officers bumble and fumble the battles. He is an excellent officer, but not high enough in rank to truly change the course of the war. At Antietam his entire division is put in a useless position and never sees any action. When the army is stuck on the wrong side of a river at Fredricksburg he finds a way across, but cannot convince his commanders to use it. Chamberlain is the only character with no military experience before the war. He was a professor of "Natural and Revealed Religion" and takes some time getting used to leading his troops. He is put in full command of his regiment during the midst of the battle of Fredricksburg, leading his men to within one hundred yards of the enemy before getting pinned down. The climax of the book is the Battle of Chancellorsville. As the fighting at Chancellorsville stretches into the evening, Jackson is accidentally shot and mortally wounded by his own men. In the final days before the imminent battle of Gettysburg, we witness him slowly succumb to his wounds and the infections brought on after amputation. The final chapter of the book shows that Lee decide to invade the north to gamble everything in order to end the war. This section contains words approx.

Chapter 8 : The Gods and Goddesses of Greek Mythology quiz: 16 questions by Shelby

In Christianity, the most general (and probably most specific) revelation is God on the cross. There, God was visibly absent, yet completely present.. There at the cross, an innocent man was considered punished by God - the sacrifice of a first-born son, a criminal according to the authorities.

Religion[edit] How would you define a "religion"? What properties must a belief system have in order for it to be a "religion"? If a belief system did not include "faith", a god, and worship would it still be a religion? Is atheism a religion? If you believe that there is no God, is that a faith-based belief? Do you think that religion in general has had a positive or negative effect on the world? Can you think of any examples? What characteristics are common in fundamentalist religious groups? Should religion be taught in state schools? If so, should the religion taught be the most common one or the most historical for the country? Should prayer be obligatory in schools? Are there any truly non-violent religions? What positive things do religions do today? What negative things do religions do today? Historically, what positive and negative things have religions been responsible for? Historically, what positive and negative things has atheism been responsible for? Do you think that religious people are happier? Do you believe in an afterlife? What do you think of the idea of hell? What do you think of the idea of heaven? In what areas does religion have an impact in your country? What are the differences and similarities of cults and religions? Do you think that cults are dangerous? Why or why not? Should the government try to eliminate cults and other fringe religious groups? Categorize the five major world religions according to their worldviews? How are they similar? How are they different? What factors differentiate theistic and atheistic worldviews? What factors differentiate perspectives within these worldviews? The Church of the Spaghetti Monster Pastafarianism is a religious group started in The members of this religious group believe that a religion does not need to require its members to have literal belief in order to attain spiritual enlightenment. While many people view this religion as a "joke" or making fun of "serious" religious groups, the members claim that it is completely legitimate. What elements are required to create a new religion? Can anyone create a new religion? Burkas, headscarves and other religious symbols[edit] There is debate in some European countries - especially France - about the appropriateness of certain forms of traditional Islamic dress, especially in schools and other state institutions. What do you think about legal attempts in some European countries to control the use of these forms of dress? What do you imagine it would be like to wear a burka on a hot day? What is the difference between banning such dress in government institutions and schools - and in banning it completely in the country? Would it be equally reasonable to prohibit Sikh men from wearing a turban? What is the difference - if any? If it were banned, it would presumably become a criminal offence. What punishment might be applied? How would Amnesty International react to jail terms? Is it reasonable to prevent men from wearing these things if they want to, or should any restriction only be applied to women? Would it be possible to wear them as fancy dress? If Western countries forbid the wearing of the burka or other forms of Islamic dress, would it be reasonable for Islamic countries to insist that Western women wear burkas when visiting? Most European countries have their own clothing taboos. For instance you can get arrested or cause major disturbance if you walk around naked. What do you think about this apparent double standard? Women - for whatever reason - seem to have more restrictions in some Islamic countries. In Saudi Arabia, for example, they are not allowed to drive. Would it be logical for them to follow all the restrictions which would have applied to them in their home countries if they move to the West? Priests, monks and nuns wear clothing which is, in some ways, similar to the burka. What would be the implications for these forms of dress, if the burka was banned? Religious freedom and the government[edit] The freedom of religion is a right included in the U. It allows people to practice any religion in public or private without being persecuted. How does this policy of religious freedom compare with how people are allowed to practice or not practice religion in your country? Should everyone in a country have the right to practice any religion they wish? Do you think the government should have the ability to "manage" religious expression? Do you think the government should be guided by religious principles? Religion and conflict[edit] What are some modern examples of religion being used to justify violence and oppression? Do you think religion is the cause of most conflict in the world? Is Islam a religion of peace? Do you think a religion needs a God? Atheism[edit] Do atheists have any special problems in your country? In a campaign started which promoted the slogan: What is your opinion of this? The well-known atheist Richard Dawkins once said: Many atheists maintain they do not believe in God because there is no evidence God exists. What is your opinion? Can atheism - the lack of belief in something - be considered a religion? Can "not collecting stamps" be considered a hobby? What factors differentiate atheistic perspectives? How many different atheistic perspectives are there? What do different atheistic perspectives have in common? How do they differ? Can freethinkers go to church regularly for service but still remain as freethinkers? Can freethinkers believe in God?

Chapter 9 : Gods and Generals (film) - Wikipedia

Whether you are discussing characters and their actions, setting, theme, or images, having a guide to questions that will lead to fruitful exchanges on your enjoyment or lack thereof of the book, plot, and even its moral implications can help make your discussion more productive and keep it on track.

What have you learned today? What was your favorite subject in school? What do you do? What are some of your favorite books? What are some of your favorite movies? What kind of music are you into? If you were going to write a book, what would you call it and what would it be about? What accomplishment are you most proud of? Do you have any kids? Have you ever thought of adopting? When you were a kid, what did you want to be when you grew up? What do you do for fun? Do you like traveling? If you could visit any country in the world, where would you go? If someone asked you to give them a random piece of advice, what would you say? What are some things that make you really happy? What are some things that make you really sad? What are some things that scare you? Do you like to plan things out in detail or be spontaneous? Are you a religious person? If you could go back in history, who would you like to meet? Would you rather live in the country or in the city? What was your life like growing up? What were you like in high school? Do you have any brothers or sisters? Who in your life has influenced you the most? How did they do it? Have you ever tried sushi? Did you like it? Do you like spicy food? How do you like your steak cooked? Do you have a favorite number? Any particular reason why you like that number? If you were a type of animal, what would you be and why? What kind of vacations do you like? What are some of your major goals in life? What are some of your smaller goals in life? What do you like least about yourself? If you could try out any job for a day, what would you like to try? What do you think people think of you? What were your grades like in school? If you could learn one random skill, what would you learn? Are you an introvert or an extrovert? Have you ever taken a personality test? How did the results turn out? Do you think people can control their own destiny? Do you think people are basically bad or basically good? Do you think morals are universal or relative to the beliefs, traditions, and practices of individuals or groups? Do you think God exists? Do you think any kind of afterlife exists? If you do vote, how do you usually vote? Do you think gay people choose to be gay? Do you think straight people choose to be straight? Is torture ever a good option? If no, why not? Would you kill an innocent person if you thought it might mean saving a dozen other people? What do you think would be one of the best steps we could take toward ending poverty around the world? What do you think we could do to best improve the education system? In general, what do you think about art? What are some of your favorite websites? What are some of the first things you do in the morning? Do you cry easily? How do you feel about public speaking? Do you like to talk on the phone? How many emails do you get each week, roughly? If someone were to make a movie about your life, who would you hope would play you? Would you ever sky dive or bungee jump? Have you ever been in a fist fight? What did you do on your 16th birthday? What do you think is one of the most undervalued professions right now? How would you explain your basic life philosophy? Would you rather be hated or forgotten? If you knew you would die tomorrow, would you feel cheated today?