I start making plans one week before my birthday. I will share a few of my interesting experiences and some unique ideas from my last few birthdays. I am sure these experiences will inspire you the same to do something awesome for your birthday too. So do you have any plans already in your mind or you are just blank to make any decision? Anyways, in both the cases, I will help you out in making your birthday just awesome. What to do on your Birthday? There are thousands of ways to celebrate a birthday. It all depends on how you want it. Down below I have mentioned a wide variety of fun things to do on your birthday. Things to do on Your Birthday Here I will give some ideas for birthday freebies that will make your day just awesome, these things will make you happy, amazing and your experience will be memorable. These things are not over the edge, just simple things you can do to make your whole day just amazing. New Makeover For how many days you are carrying the same look with all those old jeans and t-shirts. Go for shopping get yourself a pair of T-shirts, go for a saloon and give yourself a new haircut. I am sure this will make your day more fun and fresh. Explore a new place Spend this day exploring a new city or an adventurous place with your friends and close people. Generally, people celebrate the birthday at home or book any place or venue. You can just find a few random places around your city to visit and explore. No work day If you are working professional or even if you are a student, here is one thing you can do on your birthday that is do nothing. Give it a day to yourself and just enjoy your company. I know it is kind of weird to celebrate your birthday alone but to me, it is also an experience. If I talk about the forums I read yesterday, I found that many people prefer to celebrate their birthday alone, just their own company. For this, you can go out and book a hotel room. You can watch movies, listen to music, have some nice drinks and food. Mad party If celebrations alone is not a cup of your tea, then you must do a mad party. Party like there is no tomorrow. Call out your friends for the party. Plan an awesome party with some games, themes, and decorations. Make this the best birthday party ever of your life. Get some music in the house, groove to the tunes and end up the night with a sleepover. I called this a mad party is because you have to do every possible thing that will make your day just amazing. Here are some more fun ways you can celebrate your birthday. Celebrate with nature If you want to do something unique that I am sure you might not have done ever before then go for this one. Find the best place which is close to nature, a valley, Riverside, mountains, desert, etc.. I am specifically talking about camping. You can have a nice camp in this kind of places and celebrate your birthday in the most amazing way. This will be the best birthday stuff of your life, I am sure about it. Get yourself something new When was the last time you bought yourself something new if it been many days then this is the best time you can get yourself something new? Like if you are planning to buy a car then go for it, buy a car. By doing this you will make your day memorable. I still remember when I became 18 my dad gifted me a car on my birthday. I still remember that day not because I was 18 because that day my dad gifted me a car. So if no one gifts you something memorable then go ahead and get yourself a gift. Photoshoot Tell me to have you ever done a professional photo shoot on your birthday, I am sure you have not. Let him capture all the moments in photos. I know this will be a new experience for you but it will be more amazing when you will see those pictures after passing by few years. So let the day be amazing and rest leave to the photographer. Donate something Let me tell you what I do on my every birthday. My birthday starts with a prayer which my mom tells me to do. Then the second thing I do is I go to beggars and orphanage to donate money and food. It will make your whole day just awesome, you will be happy. This experience will be lifetime as I am sure you have never done it before on your birthday. Moreover that you will get blessings from many people on your birthday, what else you want to be more blissful. Thanking note We generally just think about our own happiness and celebrations. But what about those who are still up with you from the day they know you. There must be many people in your life like your parents, friends, and relatives. So do a wonderful thing on your birthday, thank all of them in a very special way. Thanks, them because they are with you till now and for being there. So write a thanking note for each person who is still by your side and the one who are very close to you. Do an adventurous activity Do something thrilling and exciting this birthday by participating in an adventurous activity like skydiving or rock climbing etc. It will make your birthday a memorable experience and give you that adrenaline rush throughout. Sometimes it is good to step out of your comfort zone and do something spontaneous out of the blue. This keeps you energized and will channelize your energies to keep up your spirits. So plan out a fall or just go climbing up the hill. Get a self-portrait made Although the digital photography has made the portrait scheme a thing of the past it will never get less exciting to get yourself sketched or painted on a canvas. You can book an appointment on your birthday and get a portrait made of yourself which you can later put it on your wall or so. Another great idea is to make this a ritual of each birthday to have a drawn record of you changing over the years. Go on a solo long drive or ride If you know how to drive or ride and it is also one of your favorite things to do then you can plan a solo long drive or a ride on your birthday. Pick a place that is outside the city for a smooth road. Try it out, you will like it! You can plan a night out of bar hopping or dessert hopping. If you are a foodie then you can go for desserts and if alcohol pleases you then nothing like changing bars and lounges. You tend to meet different people over this madness and might make some good contacts. Feel the vibe of each place and spread your energy to create an unforgettable memory. Visit a rural area Rural areas are places where people are really attached to the culture and the traditions. They will be much more old school than the city people because they are still close to their roots. So, this birthday you can plan a solo trip to the rural areas and get disconnected from the world with no phone and laptop access. Indulge yourself in their daily routine and try out stuff which you will rarely be able to do otherwise. Go on a date with parents Happiness lies where there is sharing and where the family stays because they are the reason for your existence. On your birthday share your happiness with your parents and take them to the each and every little place where you guys can share a cherished moment or to a place that plays a crucial role in your life. As a person, our roots belong to our parents to make your birthday a memory for you and them. Do a childhood memory As a grown-up kid, we never want to lose our childhood no matter how old we get. Get nostalgic by revisiting a memory that goes back right to your childhood it can be as simple as your old house or an old restaurant. You can also pull out your old album and initiate the day with by recreating all those moments once again. Because it is a special day and it is ought to be amazing. Private screening of your favorite movie They say live your life king size and on your special day, you should take charge of treating yourself as a king. Arrange a Private screening of your favorite movie on your birthday and invite your near and dear ones to it. You can have an entire private theatre to yourself surrounded by your closed ones and humming your favorite songs and dialogues from the film. All of you can hoot together on your favorite scenes from the film. Helicopter ride We love getting gifts from others on our birthday. But have you thought about gifting yourself on this special day? You can book a helicopter ride around the city that will pump your vein and you can enjoy the top view of your city. Experiencing such things depicts the beauty of the unpredictability of our life. Take a proper tour of the city at a higher altitude to see ant-sized people and the buildings. You can book a luxurious car of your choice on your birthday and hop into it. Roam around the city in the car take and feel the luxury at its full and embrace the royalty. You can go around a hill station in it or to the nearest vineyard. There is rarely anyone to look after them. You can also opt to go to the old age home to have a homely feel. Go for a spa day It is your birthday and this calls for some self-pampering and a relaxation day.
