

DOWNLOAD PDF HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD, STATE OF NEW YORK, DURING THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

Chapter 1 : SEVENTH REGIMENT NATIONAL GUARD NEW YORK - - CIVIL WAR HISTORY | eBay

History of the Seventh regiment, National guard, state of New York, during the war of the rebellion: with a preliminary chapter on the origin and in the army and navy of the United Paperback - January 1,

The regiment, located in New York City , companies, A, B, C and D , was organized during the furore created by the firing of British at American vessels off Sandy Hook in April , as the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th companies. On 25 June they were officially reorganized by the state as part of the uniformed militia of the state, and attached to the First Brigade of the Battalion of Artillery commanded by Maj. Peter Curtenius, and remained thus detached until 20 April In the regiment was deployed in the harbor forts of New York. On 25 August , the battalion was named Battalion of National Guards its distinctive name until, in , the legislature appropriated it for the uniformed militia in tribute to the Marquis de Lafayette. In January , the battalion was transferred to the 2nd New York Artillery. On 1 October , the battalion was detached and organized as a separate and independent battalion, and during the month the seventh company was organized. On 4 May , the organization of the eighth company was completed, and 7 May, the battalion was organized into a regiment, the 27th Artillery. In , the state furnished the regiment with arms, it having heretofore provided them itself. On 27 July, the designation of the regiment was changed to 7th Regiment. In April , an engineer corps was organized, which was revived and reorganized 1 March A tenth company, Company K, was organized 29 March The regiment was frequently ordered to hold itself ready for service, and did active service for the United States, the state and New York City, as follows: United States service from 15 September to 15 December ; from 2 September to 2 December ; in support of state or municipal authority: It served most of this time at Baltimore, Md. It left the state on the 17th, under the command of Colonel Lefferts, served at Baltimore, and Frederick, Md. In its service, in , it lost one enlisted man, accidentally killed, and it took part in the advance into Virginia on 24 May The regiment mustered out in New York City on September 5, It was on duty at Fort Federal Hill and provost duty in Baltimore from June 18 to July 5 before being ordered to Frederick , Maryland, on July 5, and picket and outpost duty there until July It reached New York City on July The regiment mustered out for good on July 21, Also a member as a private during the spring deployment to Washington was Robert Gould Shaw , later commander of the 54th Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry. It was noted for its military efficiency as well as the social status of its members. A pre world war I members was August Thayer Iaccaci and his brother Paul Iaccaci [7] In the regiment was called into federal service and redesignated the th Infantry Regiment. Frank Buckles , the last surviving American World War I veteran, may have served with the regiment from to

DOWNLOAD PDF HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD, STATE OF NEW YORK, DURING THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

Chapter 2 : 7th New York Militia - Wikipedia

History of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, State of New York, during the War of the Rebellion: with a preliminary chapter on the origin and early history of the regiment, a summary of its history since the war, and a roll of honor, comprising brief sketches of the services rendered by members of the regiment in the Army and Navy of the United States.

The Seventh Regiment came into being in April, Three British warships stood off New York harbor and waylaid all vessels trying to enter. The heightened tensions between New York and its former masters led to a rush of enlistments in the New York Volunteer militia companies. Four of these companies, combined into a battalion were the ancestors of the Seventh. In July they were assigned to the Battalion of Artillery, one of the elite Volunteer units in the City. For a 3 year period between and the unit, now designated the 2nd Battalion 11th Artillery, manned the guns of the forts guarding New York harbor. In the Second Battalion, 11th Artillery tried to secure a separate status. In honor of a visit by Lafayette in that year it was decided they would call themselves National Guards the "s" was dropped in in honor of the unit by that name formed and commanded by Lafayette in Paris. The name was adopted in August of that year. That same year the regiment adopted a grey uniform and has since been known as the "Grey Jackets" or "Grey-Backs. Having expanded from 4 to 8 companies it was also reorganized in as the 27th Regiment, New York State Artillery. In the militia system was overhauled and as a result, the 27th was renumbered as the 7th regiment, NYS Militia on 27 July, It was on guard in forts around Washington for three months in and was called up two more times during the war. The last call in was cut short in order to bring the regiment back to New York to quell the Draft Riots. Handsome bound in brown covers with gold stamped lettering on the cover and spine, beveled edges and the insignia of the unit on the cover, the book is clean and solidly bound. The exterior has no bumping and only lite rubbing and edge wear. The gold lettering remains bright and sharp. The interior is clean and the pages are in excellent condition; the book has no writing, smudging or foxing at all. The book is solidly bound; it has no looseness or lean and both hinges are solid. The book contains numerous handsome illustrations. It has no pasteboards, stamps or other markings and it is not an ex-library book. An excellent condition, First Edition of this scarce unit history.

DOWNLOAD PDF HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD, STATE OF NEW YORK, DURING THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

Chapter 3 : Civil War: Remembering the Seventh Regiment | The New York History Blog

This item: History of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, State of New York, During the War of the Rebellion (Classic Reprint) Set up a giveaway There's a problem loading this menu right now.

Four companies were formed and assigned to the First Brigade of the Battalion of Artillery. Deployed in the harbor forts of New York. Gray uniforms were adopted and the intention to become a regiment was declared. The 7th Regiment Band is organized. The Engineers Corps is organized, later called Company K. Mustered into federal service. Mustered into federal service in Baltimore. Mustered into federal service in Maryland. Deployed in New York to quell the Draft Riots. The 7th Regiment is deployed during the Orange Riots. The 7th Regiment is called for guard duty during the Croton Reservoir labor dispute. The 7th Regiment is mustered into federal service to guard the Mexican Border. The 7th Regiment is drafted into federal service. Redesignated the 7th Infantry and assigned to the 27th Division. Consolidates with 7th Infantry, New York Guard, and reorganized and federalized as the 7th Infantry. The Regiment is broken up, reorganized and redesignated as follows: Reorganized as the 7th Infantry with Headquarters in New York. A German musical society of the mid-19th century formed the Seventh Regiment Band consisting of forty-two professional German musicians. It was the only exclusively regimental band of the Civil War era and one of the most popular brass bands of the time; the band-leader, who went by the name Noll, used brass and reed instruments in duo proportion. In 1862, Claudio S. Grafulla became the band-leader and reorganized the band. He added woodwinds to the band and continued to serve as its director until his death in 1898. The band gained a high reputation under his leadership. He composed and is best remembered for his march, Washington Greys. The memorial depicts seven men; the one to the far right carrying two Mills bombs, while supporting the wounded soldier next to him. To his right another infantryman rushes towards the enemy positions, while the helmet-less squad leader and another soldier are approaching the enemy with bayonet fixed Lee-Enfield rifles. To the far left, one soldier is holding a mortally wounded soldier, keeping him on his feet. The monument was first conceived about 1862, was made in 1863 and was placed in the park and unveiled in 1864, near the perimeter wall at Fifth Avenue and 67th Street. Symbolism The original units of the regiment were artillery and the bursting bomb, the earliest insignia, represents that assignment. The old uniform was cadet gray; the monogram "N. For over fifty years, the 7th Infantry Regiment was the only organization bearing the distinctive title of "National Guard. The embattled and broken chevron is emblematic of the breaking of the Hindenburg Line, in which the 7th Infantry Regiment participated. The motto translates to "For Country and Glory. It was amended to correct the description on 28 March. It was redesignated for the 7th Coast Artillery Regiment on 24 October. The insignia was redesignated for the 7th Infantry Regiment on 30 March. It was redesignated for the 7th Support Group with the description and symbolism revised effective 1 September. Coat of arms[edit] Blazon[edit] Shield: Per chevron Gules and Gray, a chevron embattled to chief rompu enhanced Argent between in chief the cipher of the regiment of the script monogram N. Symbolism[edit] Shield: The original units of the regiment were artillery and the bursting bomb, the earliest insignia, represents that assignment. For over fifty years the 7th Infantry Regiment was the only organization bearing the distinctive title of "National Guard". This designation was adopted by the United States Government for general use in Background[edit] The coat of arms was originally approved for the 7th Infantry Regiment on 2 August. It was amended to correct the blazon of the shield on 28 March. The coat of arms was cancelled on 3 June, when the distinctive unit insignia was redesignated for the 7th Support Group, as the Group was not eligible to inherit the coat of arms. The New York Historical Society. Retrieved 4 May

DOWNLOAD PDF HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD, STATE OF NEW YORK, DURING THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

Chapter 4 : th Infantry Regiment (United States) - Wikipedia

History of the Seventh regiment, National guard, State of New York, during the War of the rebellion, with a preliminary chapter on the origin and early history of the Regiment, a summary of its history since the war, and a roll of honor, comprising brief sketches of the services rendered by members of the Regiment in the Army and Navy of the.

Further Reading This is meant to be a comprehensive list. If, however, you know of a resource that is not listed below, please send an email to ng. This can include photographs, letters, articles and other non-book materials. Presented with the compliments of Wm. Biddle, Steam Printer, Abraham Lincoln Letter, October 20, This letter addressed to Mr. Clinton has reference to a commission he sought in the Corps of Army Engineers. Clinton was an architect and designed the Armory at 66th Street and Park Avenue. It was completed in Thank you to Steve Glazer for pointing out this resource. Sibell, Stationer and Printer, Robert Craighead Printing, Camp Cameron, Georgetown, D. Illustrations show a view of Camp Cameron and soldiers and citizens attending an outdoor church service. Charter and Constitution of the Veterans of the National Guard, Chronology and bibliography, prepared by Lt. History of the Seventh Regiment of New York, The Seventh Regiment, Clark, Emmons, and Andrew McNally. Includes correspondence and memorabilia of Emmons Clark regarding the 7th Regiment. Life of William Eugene Harward, by Rev. Songs of the seventh: Dix, at the reception by the Seventh regiment, National guard, S. History of the New York National Guard: The celebrated Seventh Regiment, from of its organization to the present times []. Pratt Stationers and Printers, Veterans of the National Guard. General Committee on New Armory. The personal letter of a Civil War soldier to his grandson, Walter Lyman Medding, recounting his wartime experiences. A brief history of the Second company of the Seventh regiment company "B", th infantry". Through extensive research, this article reveals the number of Rutgers College alumni confirmed to have participated in the Civil War was about Glazer summaries data on these participants and highlights the lives of a few them. He also constructs a list of all of them with pertinent biographical information about each. Band second promenade concert. Craft, printer, 29 Ann Street. Located at the New York Historical Society. Collection containing assorted military returns, personal and official correspondence, muster rolls, court martial documents, lists of officers, military orders, accounts, etc. New York, April 15th, New York, April 20th, Headquarters Veterans of the Seventh Regiment. New York, February 7, Vail Ballou Pr, Camp of the Seventh Reg. Near Washington on 14th St. Soldiers resting and walking around tents. Lamb, Martha Joanna Reade Nash. Diaries containing essays and details relating to Lent and his service with the 7th Regiment of the New York Volunteers during the Civil War. Lockwook John and Charles Lockwood. Oxford University Press, New York, Robert Charlton Mitchell Family Papers, [? Includes four publications from the reunions of: Collection also contains genealogies of the Mitchell and Gaff families, photographs and other family documents. New York Prtg Co, Board of Management and standing committees, veterans of the Seventh Regiment. In War Department Library Pamphlet v. Charter, constitution and by-laws fo the veterans of the Seventh regiment N. Proceedings of the conference committees of the Board of officers Seventh regt. Located at the Library of Congress. Songs of the Seventh. From Its Organization March 6th, 1 to March 6th Notes on the colours of the National Guard: From an Amateur Press for private distribution, Nicholas Hotel, May 6, Published by order of the Company, Civil war letters and documents of Frederick Tomlinson Peet. H, April 18th - June 3rd, Personal experiences in the Civil War. Papers also include the sheet music, "Third Company Quickstep," by C. Grafula, and an engraved picture of Captain Pollard. The Correspondence, mainly from siblings, describes family life back at home to Captain Pollard who is away with the 7th Regiment. They often inquire of his health, as well. Also included is a group of poetry, chiefly from one of his sisters, Josephine Pollard, to him describing various events, e. There are also two letters included from another member of the 7th Regiment, W. Massey, asking to be given his resignation from the army. Located at Duke University. PowersColl Misc booklets, commemoratives, etc. Veterans of the Seventh Regt, N. Reception by the Seventh regiment, National guard, S. The Regiment that Saved the Capitol: Emmons Clark, and Col. Request made of President Lincoln by Capt. Bensel for a Lieutenancy for John W. Letter is in a metal case that flips to show both the front and back of the letter. New York, June 15, Roll of Honor of the Regiment. Chronicles of the rebellion of forming a complete history of the secession movement from its commencement, to which are added the muster roll of the Union army and explanatory and illustrative notes of the leading features of the campaign. Scrap book, 7th Regiment N. During The Civil War. Print shows men of the 7th Regiment of New York militia inside a railroad car. Letters RGS [monogram] Cambridge: Seventy Years of an active life, by Louis Sterne. History of the Seventh regiment, National guard, State of New York, during the War of the rebellion, with a preliminary chapter on the origin and early history of the Regiment, a summary of its history since the war, and a roll of honor, comprising brief sketches of the services rendered by members of the Regiment in the Army and Navy of the United States, by William Swinton. Illustrated by Thomas Nast. Taylor, Asher and John Mason. Recollections of the early days of the National Guard comprising the prominent events in the history of the famous Seventh Regiment New York Militia. Pro Patria et Gloria: Memorandum for Secretary of War; Subject: The Seventh Regiment April 15,

DOWNLOAD PDF HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD, STATE OF NEW YORK, DURING THE WAR OF THE REBELLION

Chapter 5 : 7th NY Infantry Regiment during the Civil War - NY Military Museum and Veterans Research C

History of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, State of New York, During the War of the Rebellion With a Preliminary Chapter on the Origin and Early History of the Regiment, a Summary of Its History Since the War, and a Roll of Honor, Comprising Brief Sketches of the Services Rendered by Members of the Regiment in the Army and Navy of the United State.

Chapter 6 : History of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, State of New York, During the War of the Re

Full text of "History of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, State of New York, during the War of the Rebellion: with a preliminary chapter on the origin and early history of the regiment, a summary of its history since the war, and a roll of honor, comprising brief sketches of the services rendered by members of the regiment in the Army and.