It happened like this. For nearly his entire life, the man had lived without any conscious dependence on God. His neighbors knew him as an honest, hardworking man who worked long hours on his farm. He and his wife raised a large family and had the satisfaction of watching their children grow up and establish families of their own. In a sense, he was a typical American success story. He prospered through hard work and a resiliency born of many decades of making a living from the soil. It would also be fair to say he was a tough customer given to salty language. Those who knew him might have called him a crusty personality. The day came when he and his wife moved into a nursing home. After his wife died several years ago, his children and grandchildren and other members of the family paid him regular visits. One of his nephews was a minister who, whenever he dropped by to say hello, always asked the old man if he could pray for him. The answer was always negative. Prayer was fine for other folks but he had gotten through life on his own and he intended to make the final lap without asking God for assistance. But God has his people in many places. There was a nurse at the rest home who kept telling the old man that he needed Jesus. She told him many times and he repeatedly dismissed her words. The proof of his changed life came the next time his nephew paid a visit. The nephew later said he nearly fell over when the old man agreed for the first time! And always after that, they ended each visit with prayer. The old man died about two weeks ago. After a lifetime of living without God, at the last moment he came to Christ.

For one penny, they will be able to look into the future. The booth they sit in has a fortune teller machine on the table that answers yes or no questions for a penny each. Don asks the "mystic seer" if he is going to get a promotion at work. The card says "It has been decided in your favor. Because of this initial success, Don asks the seer if their car will be fixed in the promised time, and receives the answer "You may never know. Don accordingly stalls for time, but Pat argues that the seer cannot genuinely predict the future and eventually convinces him to leave a few minutes before 3. The couple is almost struck by a car while crossing the street. A nearby clock shows it is 3 p. After they calm down, Don goes back to the cafe and asks about their car again. The seer answers "It has already been taken care of", and the mechanic steps into the diner to tell Don that his car is fixed. Pat remains skeptical, contending that the seer answers only in generalities while Don provides all the specifics in his questions, so Don challenges her to try it for herself. She asks the seer trick questions, and the answers are still accurate. She argues that it is better for him to make his own future than to be controlled by what the seer tells him. After their exit, an older couple enters the diner. The couple is beleaguered and distraught. Approaching the mystic seer, the man asks questions about whether they will ever leave Ridgeview. The couple is deflated by the answers. While this is happening, Don and Pat leave Ridgeview. Two people permanently enslaved by the tyranny of fear and superstition, facing the future with a kind of helpless dread. Two others facing the future with confidence - having escaped one of the darker places of the Twilight Zone.
