June 4th Here is the Literary Terms Quizlet link: The students took down notes and practiced a small portion of the CAT. There are 5 paragraphs: Week of November 17th-In the powerpoint below on the second slide the students put this chart in their Writing Section and completed it in class. The purpose of the chart was for the students to pull out the important details about each source that the Practice Test gave them. In conclusion to completing the Test, the students will compose the writing piece given to them. This will conclude their practice and Mrs. Schep will score it based on the rubric that Smarter Balance provided in the packet. Week of October 27th- The students are starting a poetry unit and are learning about Edgar Allan Poe. The students will be reading "The Tell-Tale Heart" which is located in their literature book. Week of October 20th-The students completed the short story "Pets" and took a quiz. We are now moving on to writing an argumentative paper. Week of October 13th Update: You also should have completed a Writing Territory about "Pets" Do you own any, do you want a new pet? We also began reading "Pets" out of our literature book on page The vocabulary should be copied into the Important Vocabulary section in your notebook. So far, we have covered: Figurative Language Bio Poems We have read the short story "Zebra" and the students have completed a study guide. The students have also completed their first notebook quiz, which is based on the organization and note-taking of their notebook. What do we do daily? The Grammar Warm-Up is turned in every 15 days for a class assignment grade. September 30th- Title a new page in your notebook: After you have created that graphic organizer, please make a second that has 4 rows, and 4 columns. So 16 boxes On the top of the first column title it "WHO? Eventually, this great information will be used for an argumentative paper. Here is the website with The Basso Family Information:
